Meet your CCVI Directors

Kerry Boehm, Executive Director

Kerry joined CCVI as Chief Operating Officer in 2021 overseeing programming, administrative responsibilities, and general operations. She began her tenure as Executive Director in 2022. Kerry spent over three decades in early education, most recently serving as the principal of Great Beginnings Early Education Center in the Lee's Summit School District. While Kerry has worked as an early childhood administrator since 2005, her roots are in the classroom as a special education first grade teacher. Under her leadership, CCVI focuses on identifying opportunities to expand its services and reach.

Alex Olson, Director of Education and Vision Services

Alex holds a Bachelors of Science and Masters of Science in Visual Disabilities with a minor in Foreign Language Braille from The Florida State University. Alex has served as a classroom teacher and Director of the Early Intervention Program at CCVI. She also have experience teaching at the Florida School for the Blind, as an itinerant TVI, and as a Vision Services Coordinator for the Southeast Division of Allied Instructional Services. Alex specializes in the Expanded Core Curriculum, Braille instruction, Evaluations, and teacher mentoring.

Danielle Schulte, Director of Therapy and Early Intervention Services

Danielle joined the CCVI staff in 2010 as a physical therapist and now oversees the center-based therapy and early intervention teams. She has practiced in various pediatric settings across the country beginning work as a physical therapist in 1998. Danielle earned her post-professional Doctor of Physical Therapy and is certified in Neuro-Developmental Treatment for the management of and treatment of children with cerebral palsy and other neuromotor disorders.
